There is an internationally known accepted fact accredited to the ecological human scientific community of Earth concerning the toxic contamination destruction of planet Earth!

Those scientists projected a calculated fact that Earth will go unlivable toxic with no more ability to sustain any form of atmosphere breathing life forms or most aquatic life forms and a major number of plant life forms, (by or somewhat around or before the calendar year of 2055.)

The year 2050 may be the end point of recovery for this planet, and the recovery effort will only have 5 (five) years of time to make it happen.

FOR NOW THIS MOMENT AS YOU READ THIS, At the current rate that the rubbish waste of humanity is being poured and dumped into the planets Environment, the year 2055 can be the actual final year of life for all on this planet and the year of final toxic poisoning termination destruction of Planet Earth.

2055 is only 37 years forward from the year of 2018, or with added population the time line window can and will reduce from 2067 to 2055 which leaves only 22 more years before the total non-recoverable point of no return arrives at 2040. Ghastly Reality!!
